Procure Plus is joining academic and industry leaders at Retrofit 2012 this week (24th – 26th January 2012), to discuss the UK and EU's approach to addressing the carbon challenge. The conference, organised by the University of Salford, brings together a wide range of researchers and industry professionals from a number of disciplines, to identify how the energy crisis may be best addressed, and the key current and emerging research questions and findings in the field.

At the event, Procure Plus will be showcasing its Retrofit Brokerage Model which has been developed in partnership with an independent sustainability expert. The Model enables Procure Plus members to maximise the social and economic benefits of the energy efficiency and renewable energy sector, while achieving best value.
